April, 2012

First day- Housing Advocates Training. We will cover everything from illegal evictions to discrimination to questions about subsidized housing. H.A.T. is designed for housing advocates from local community organizations (clients/consumers also welcome). The Fair Housing Center, Legal Services of South Central Michigan, and the Michigan Poverty Law Program will provide a participatory workshop for people with varying levels of knowledge and experience.

Second day- Welfare Policy Seminar. An attorney from the Michigan Poverty Law Program will focus on the Department of Human Services' most popular programs, including cash assistance, food assistance, state disability assistance, and Medicaid. There will also be a brief overview of Social Security programs, including SSI, RSDI, and Medicare.
